EVENTS:

1. I don't know if this is for you or not, but our team is hosting an annual event about natural skin care next Thursday night. Did you know that the US does not have any laws related to cosmetic safety? The Young Living skin care line has provided me with the clearest and softest skin that I've ever experienced! As an adult I developed the worst acne and was so embarrassed. I didn't think I would ever find something non-toxic that was so effective! If I sent you an invitation, would you join me? Tickets are a great bargain at $25 because of the expertise of the instructors and the product samples! I even have a special deal to reduce that cost if you contact me directly! 😊

BUSINESS CLASSES:

1. I just found out that my friend Andrea and her husband, who have grown a monthly six figure income with Young Living, will be sharing a little of their story. They've done this in part time hours and have been able to give money away to causes that are important to them, pay down their car and home debt and taken fun, exciting trips all over the world building their Young Living business...so its pretty cool. I know the business might not be for you, but would you at least listen to their story? Maybe have your spouse or another friend join you too!

2. So...it seems that everyone is jumping on the MLM/Network Marketing bandwagon these days doesn't it?? Jamberry Nails, It Works, Advocare, Plexus, Younique, Gold Canyon, Beach Body, Norwex, Young Living...Everyone insists, "JOIN ME JOIN ME!!" Lot's of PRESSURE...RIGHT?!? Which friend do I sign up with?? Well, allow me to shed a little light on the situation 😊

I truly believe the Multilevel Marketing (MLM) aka Network Marketing Business Model is a viable one. I am seeing first hand so many friends and colleagues achieving financial freedoms that have allowed them (myself included) to DREAM and ACHIEVE a life that at one time seemed impossible and unattainable. A successful MLM Business is possible with many different companies....the sustainability and longevity for YOU will come from the passion that YOU have with the company of your choossing. You HAVE to be a, "product of the product."

Research the COMPANY and the PRODUCTS, then only choose the one you are truly passionate about. For me, I would continue to use Young Living products even if the business weren't an option, Young Living Essential Oils have changed our lives in MANY ways and without a shadow of a doubt...Young Living will be a part of our lifestyle always. Starting my own business was the LAST thing I was looking for, in fact, I insisted I wouldn't do it!

However, there are so MANY health benefits my family has gained because of YL. My passion for what this company stands for coupled with the knowledge that financial health is a factor in achieving TOTAL and COMPLETE wellness...that's what finally convinced me to step up and share this message with those I care about! Mike and I are booking coffee appointments for November. (Because who doesn't want to earn some extra holiday cash?) We are looking for 2 types of people!

1. Those who want to know what all this essential oil buzz is about. Give us 20-30 min of your time and we will bring the oils for you to experience, and show you how they can make a difference in your life...if you haven't already gathered...We think they are AMAZING!!! Life CHANGERS!!

2. Those who are looking to make an income from home. Give me 45 min of your time and we will show you how the Young Living compensation plan is one of the BEST OUT THERE and how a 6 figure income truly is possible. (I already match my teaching salary working YL part time) We would be honored to have you on our TEAM! Together Everyone Accomplishes More...and we are super supportive and have FUN!!!

If you or anyone you know falls into one of these categories please message me and we will set up a time to chat. Phone #, Email. . . FB Page. . . thanks to Nan Gillispie for sharing these great tips!
